The True Crime

MS Office Training Kit

A turn-key Word · Excel · PowerPoint · Outlook curriculum, delivered inside detective-themed templates that learners actually want to open.

Cracking the case

Most Microsoft Office training is forgettable because it teaches buttons, not stories. The True Crime concept changes that — learners stop "learning Excel" and start solving cases inside it. Templates become evidence boards. Tasks become missions. Worksheets become case files.

This proposal lays out exactly how I'll build that kit — entirely in Word, Excel, and PowerPoint 2016, with no outside software needed.

STUDENT MISSIONS

A five-stage investigation plan

Each stage closes with a deliverable and your sign-off. No stage begins before the previous is approved — keeps the case clean.

The detective design language

Before a single template is built, I lock the visual code: typography, colour palette, iconography, and the four core template archetypes the entire kit reuses.

Outlook briefings & comms

72 hours, four applications

Every hour is built directly inside the template — step-by-step instructions, highlight boxes, and practice tasks. No external slides, no PDFs, no detours.

How learning happens inside the template

Every lesson lives inside the file the learner is editing. Three repeatable elements carry the entire 72-hour curriculum:

ELEMENT 01

Step-by-step instructions

Numbered, plain-English directions placed beside the work area. No jumping between tabs, no 'see Appendix B'. Everything the learner needs is on the page they're editing.

ELEMENT 02

Highlight boxes

Amber 'DETECTIVE'S NOTE' callouts mark must-know shortcuts, common mistakes, and pro tips. Designed to be scannable in seconds, even on a re-visit.

ELEMENT 03

Practice missions

Every section closes with a hands-on task tied to Future Immigration Law Firm — so learners don't just follow steps, they apply them to a fictional business problem.

Twelve business systems for the firm

Future Immigration Law Firm — the fictional practice business — gets twelve complete systems. Every template, every mission, every dashboard is tied to this single coherent storyline.

01	 Identity Word	02	 Customer Avatar Word	03	 Strategy Word + PPT	04	 Financial Plan Excel
05	 Business Plan Word	06	 Marketing Word + PPT	07	 Launch PPT	08	 Management Word + Excel
09	 Dashboards Excel	10	 Missions Word + Excel	11	 Branding Pack PPT	12	 Evidence Boards PPT

Three capstone investigations

After the curriculum, learners earn their badge by completing three multi-app projects. Each one tests recall, application, and cross-app fluency.

MISSION 01

Word

The Written Exploration

A long-form case-file dossier. Tests formatting, styles, sections, headers, references, and tables.

MISSION 02

PowerPoint

Career Plan Briefing

A polished evidence-board presentation of the learner's own career path. Tests layout, master slides, and visual storytelling.

MISSION 03

Word + Excel +
PowerPoint

Full Business Plan

The capstone. A complete plan for the Future Immigration Law Firm using all three apps in concert — document, financials, and pitch deck.

Clean folder structure, ready to deploy

Every file lands in a clearly named folder, so trainers and learners always know where to look. No mystery files, no duplicates.
